How to Contribute to Your DAF with a Credit Card

With NPT GivingPoint, National Philanthropic Trust's secure donor portal, you can contribute directly to your donor-advised fund (DAF) online using a credit card. This document will lead you through the process.

TO BEGIN: Log in to the donor portal at nptgivingpoint.org.

To reach the credit card form, click on Contribute in the navigation menu and select Contribute with Credit Card from the drop-down list.

Donor Information

First, indicate the amount of your contribution. A 3% processing fee will be charged to your DAF or you can choose to increase the amount of your gift by 3% to cover the cost of the fee. The Net Amount field will show you how much your DAF will receive after you decide how the fee will be processed.

Use the drop-down menu to select a donor, who must be the cardholder of the credit card.

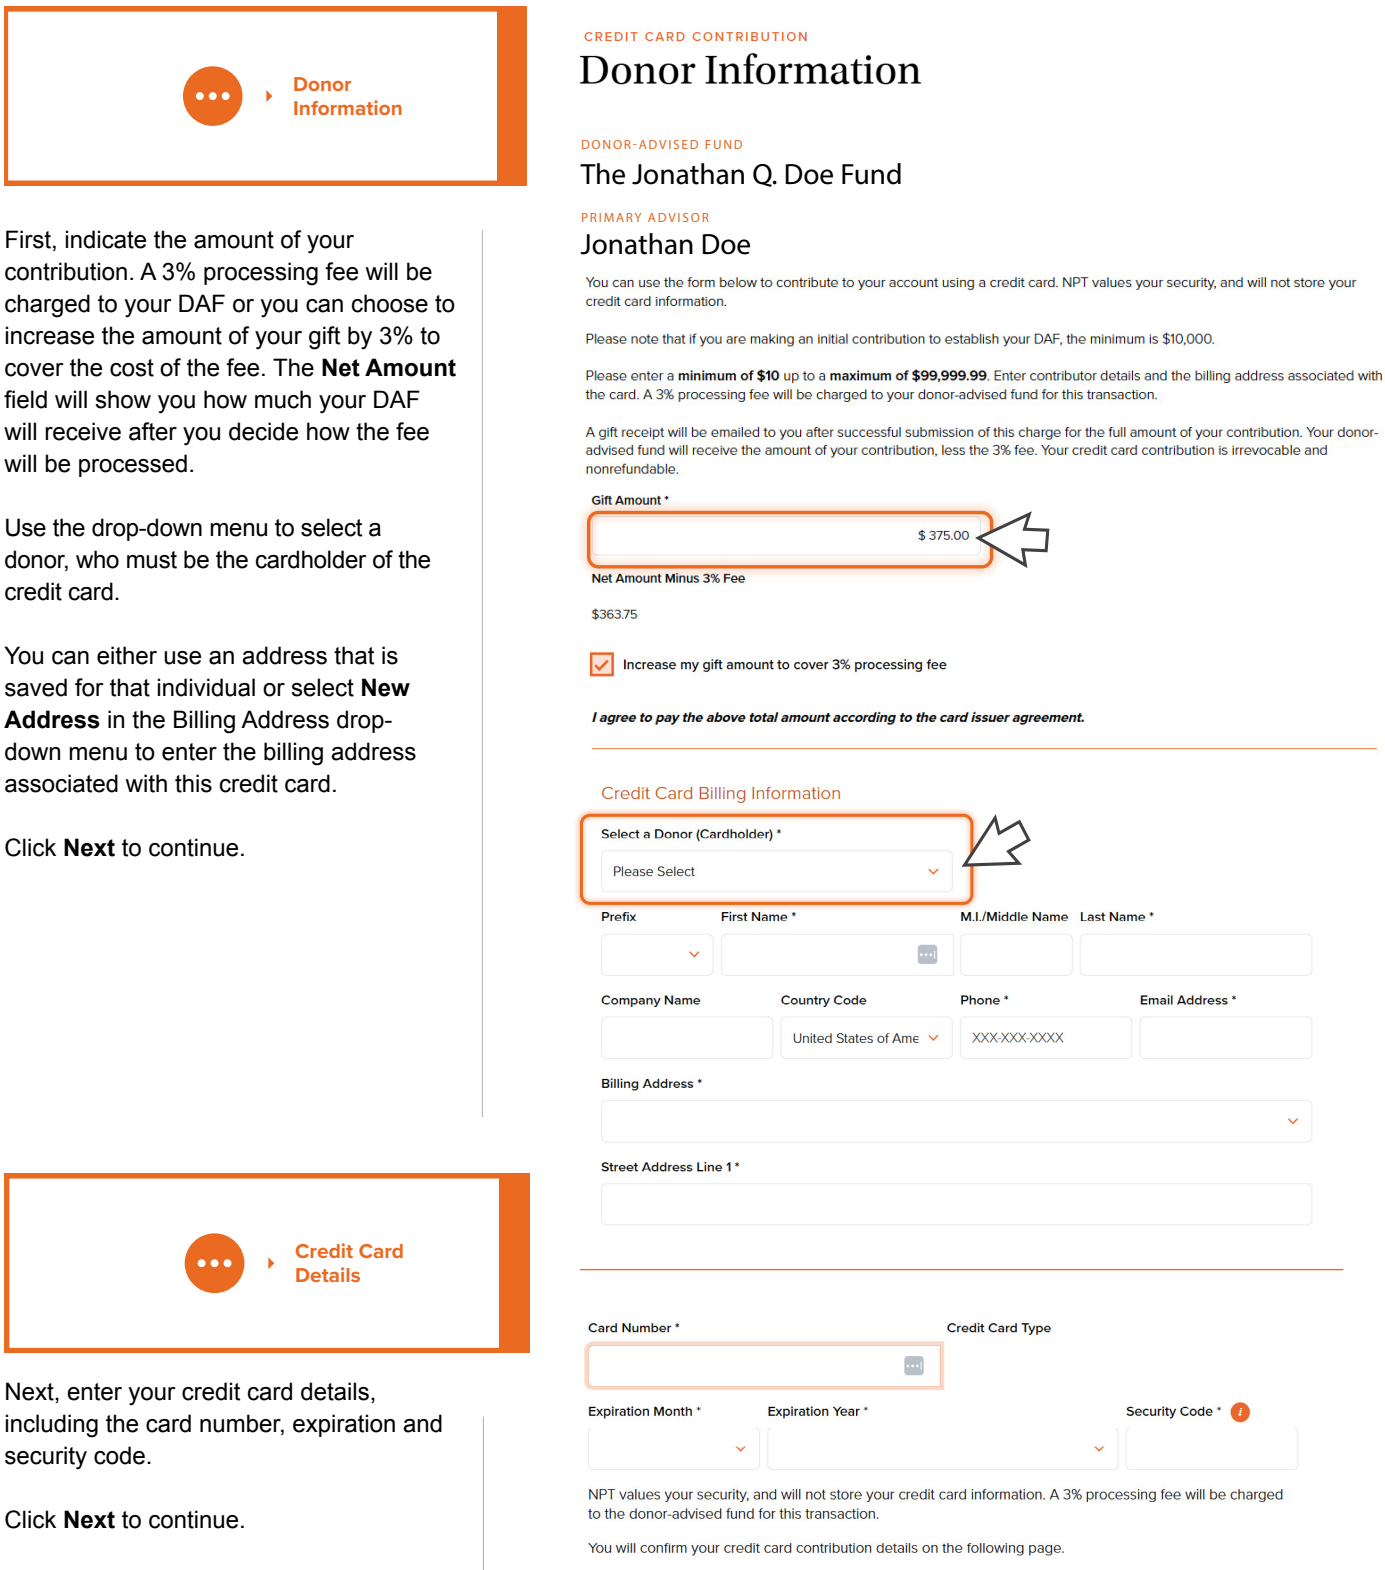

You can either use an address that is saved for that individual or select New Address in the Billing Address drop-down menu to enter the billing address associated with this credit card.

Click Next to continue.

Credit Card Details

Next, enter your credit card details, including the card number, expiration and security code.

Click Next to continue.

The Confirm & Submit tab will show you a summary of your credit card gift details. If anything looks inaccurate, go back and edit, or click the Cancel link to start over.

If the details of your contribution are all in order, acknowledge the terms and click Submit Contribution.

You will see a confirmation page and will receive a confirmation email with a gift receipt for the full amount of your contribution. The amount of your contribution, less a 3% processing fee, will be reflected in your donor-advised fund balance shortly.
