

National
Philanthropic
Trust

Your partner in giving

Holly Welch Stubbing Named Among “People To Watch In 2025” By The Chronicle Of Philanthropy

National Philanthropic Trust’s President and CEO is listed among a cross-section of leaders, innovators and trend-setters across various sectors and subject matter expertise.

Redefining the future: James Lankford, Holly Welch Stubbing, Cecilia Conrad, Ken Griffin, and Mike Kubzansky.

January 24, 2025

NPT President and CEO Holly Welch Stubbing has been named to The Chronicle of Philanthropy’s “People to Watch” list, an annual collection of luminaries in the nonprofit and donor communities. This year’s list is organized by themes related to leaders taking on new roles, people redefining the future, and those leading in stormy times. Welch Stubbing was named as a leader “redefining the future,” with The Chronicle calling NPT a “standard bearer in for the field” and DAFs highlighted as “a prominent part of the philanthropic landscape.”

Read the full article here at philanthropy.com. Subscription required for full site access.